I. Main economic indicators

Monetary developments

In November 2015, money supply increased by Afl. 26.8 million to Afl. 3,730.0 million, compared to the previous month, resulting from an Afl. 40.3 million expansion in net domestic assets, which was partly offset by an Afl. 13.6 million decline in net foreign assets¹.

Money, as a component of broad money, grew by Afl. 66.9 million to Afl. 1,996.6 million, as demand deposits and currency in circulation registered increases of, respectively, Afl. 59.6 million and Afl. 7.4 million. The growth in demand deposits was due to increases in deposits denominated in Aruban florin of Afl. 57.4 million and deposits denominated in foreign currency of Afl. 2.1 million. Quasi-money contracted by Afl. 40.2 million to Afl. 1,733.4 million, largely due to an Afl. 40.5 million decline in time deposits denominated in Aruban florin.

The rise in the domestic component of the money supply was caused by increases in non-credit related balance sheet items of Afl. 38.4 million and domestic credit of Afl. 1.9 million. The growth in non-credit related balance sheet items was mainly associated with dividend disbursement.

Domestic credit rose due to an increase in the net claims of the banking sector on the public sector of Afl. 15.3 million and a decline in claims of the banking sector on the private sector of Afl. 13.4 million. The rise in the net claims on the public sector was mainly due to decreases in government deposits and development funds of, respectively, Afl. 11.8 million and Afl. 3.3 million. The contraction in claims on the private sector resulted from declines in loans to enterprises of Afl. 16.1 million and consumer credit of Afl. 2.0 million. Housing mortgages on the other hand, rose by Afl. 4.7 million (Chart. 1).

The decline in the net foreign assets was associated with the net sales of foreign exchange by the commercial banks to the public, mainly related to payments for the import of goods, other services, income, current transfers and net transfers to notified foreign accounts of resident companies. These sales were partly mitigated by net purchases of foreign exchange by the commercial banks from the public associated with tourism receipts and direct investment related transactions.

Inflation

The consumer price index (CPI) for November 2015 noted a 0.2 percent decrease year-over-year (YoY), (Chart 2). The main contributor to this decrease was the component "Transport", which was mainly driven by a fall in gasoline prices, and to a lesser extent, by the components "Food and Non-alcoholic Beverages" and "Clothing and Footwear". Conversely, the components "Housing", "Communication", "Recreation and Culture", "Beverages and Tobacco Products" and "Restaurant and Hotels" registered increases. Excluding the effect of food and energy², the growth in the core CPI was 1.1 percent (YoY) (Table A). The 12-month average inflation rate grew by 0.7 percent in November 2015, compared to 0.9 percent in October 2015 (Chart 3).

Tourism

In November 2015, the number of stay-over visitors amounted to 110,307, which is 13.5 percent (+13,108 visitors) more than in November 2014 (Chart 4). The expansion in the Latin American market (36.2 percent) was responsible for this growth. On the other hand, the North American market contracted by 1.4 percent.

The surge in the Latin American market resulted mainly from a growth of 12,802 visitors (YoY) from Venezuela. The turnaround of the North American market was due to decreases in visitors from Canada and the United States of, respectively, 427 visitors (YoY) and 333 visitors (YoY).

In the month under review, total number of nights spent in Aruba, as indicated by the visitors, grew by 1.7 percent to 681,339, compared to the same month of the previous year. The average intended night stays declined from 6.9 nights in November 2014 to 6.2 nights in November 2015.

The number of cruise visitors rose by 12,507 or 18.6 percent to 79,753 in November 2015, compared to November 2014. The number of ship calls in November 2015 remained unchanged at 35, compared to November 2014.

Government revenue

In November 2015, total government revenue totaled Afl. 81.5 million, i.e., Afl. 6.5 million lower than in the same month of the previous year. This drop was primarily caused by a decrease in non-tax revenue of Afl. 5.5 million. Please note that figures from the Department of Finance for November 2015 are not yet available. Tax revenue contracted by Afl. 1.0 million as a result of lower revenues from profit tax (Afl. 3.8 million), gambling licenses (Afl. 1.3 million), income tax (Afl. 0.9 million) and motor vehicle fees (Afl. 0.5 million). These declines were partially offset by increases in revenues from foreign exchange tax (Afl. 1.8 million), import duties (Afl. 1.4 million) and transfer tax (Afl. 1.0 million).

* The monetary survey consolidates the accounts of the Centrale Bank van Aruba, the commercial banks and the Government related only to the issuance of components of the money supply, i.e., coins and treasury bills. This survey shows the financial relationship between the monetary sector, whose liabilities include the money supply, and other sectors of the economy.

 Gross claims include loans granted as well as government bonds in the hands of the monetary sectors and claims resulting from the issuance of treasury bills, cash certificates, and coins.

 Revaluation differences of gold and official foreign exchange holdings are excluded in order to approximate the net import of foreign funds by the nonmonetary sectors.

1) The Diversification Index measures the concentration within the tourist market, and thus demonstrates the degree of diversification by tourist origin countries. The higher the index, the higher the level of concentration, meaning less diversification. For further reference on the methodology (which is an application of a Herfindahl-Hirschman index) see the Quarterly Bulletin (2011-I) of the CBA.
